WHAT A. H. FORD FORGOT TO TELL

Alexander Hume Ford, intrepid explorer and finder of hidden mountain trails, is not infallible. Great as is his versatility, word reached town this morning of an episode in which Ford was the central figure in the limelight and about which he forgot to mention anything after his return from the island of Lanai recently.

Although Lanai is only a small place it is quite large enough for any one to get lost in, and if you do not leave this ask Ford, he knows.

The party that went out to explore the hidden vastnesses of Lanai met with no excitement until someone noticed that a great quiet had fallen over the place. Inquiries brought to light the fact that Ford was missing and furthermore a search did not bring to light the lost one.

For five hours Ford played tag with the scenery. He wandered from the beaten track and after some harrowing experiences finally struck a fence. Being wise in his generation the intrepid explorer hitched the horse to the fence and proceeded to follow along the line on foot. Through prickly bushes that tore his clothes, through thick bushes that got entangled in his whiskers and through a rainstorm that drenched him to the skin, Ford floundered his way along the fence line until finally, after being away five hours, he discovered home once more.

A muddy, scratched and dripping figure presented itself at the home-stand and announced that it was Ford. No one would believe it at first until finally the figure announced that it was going to form a Lost-Among-the-Bushes Club. Then he was taken in and made presentable again.

NEEDLESS FEAR OF A TENEMENT

Rumors that a large Japanese tenement building is being planned for the corner of Emma and Vineyard streets has been the cause of a good deal of perturbation among the residents of that section. According to Deputy City and County Attorney Milverton, however, the anxiety is probably groundless, since two city ordinances appear to cover the matter in such a way that no such building could be erected on the spot named.

In the first place an ordinance provides that no tenement building shall be erected within 500 feet of a school building. The site in question is less than this distance from the Central Grammar School, and probably of the St. Andrew's Priory. The second ordinance provides that where a tenement house is to be constructed in a residence neighborhood, the consent of two-thirds of the property owners within a radius of 500 feet shall first be obtained. This last would undoubtedly be impossible to obtain, did not the first ordinance effectually bar the building suggested.

Grounds for the rumor doubtless originated in the fact that a Japanese named Sasaki has leased a number of small pieces of property at the point named, the latest being a fifteen-year lease on a lot owned by Ella Long, the rental being $500 per annum.

BILL SPICER'S DOUBLE TUMBLE

Poor old Bill Spicer is at it again. Bill's an excellent workman, but every now and again he is afflicted with an abnormal thirst, and then things happen which are distinctly disadvantageous to Bill's welfare.

Yesterday afternoon Bill made an error of navigation at the corner of Nuuanu and Hotel streets and toppled over, cutting the back of his head.

He was taken to the hospital and his wound dressed.

Last night about 7 o'clock he again lost the decision to the sidewalk and another trip to the repair shop was necessary. According to last accounts Bill is doing well.

ROSIE ON A JOYOUS JAG

Rosie Kepoika got tanked up last night and started to raise a racket in her Kakaako home.

Her hubby called for the advice and assistance of the police but on Rosie being sought she was nowhere to be found.

A cug about 9:30 p. m. a telephone message was received at the police station that a crazy woman was running through the streets of Kakaako, singing ribald songs and turning hand-springs in a mummou.

Again the police visited the distressful district, and sure enough the disturber of the quiet of the night was Rosie.

She was arrested and held at the station until the bats in her belfry had taken flight.

EDGE OF THE AXE IN PILIKIA

In the police court this morning Judge Monsarrat fined Kalaekeloi $3 and costs for being drunk.

Kalaekeloi means "the edge of the axe," and defendant got it in the neck. J. Rodriguez, drunk, forfeited bail of $6.

John Pukiki, charged with making the night hideous out Palama way, had sentence suspended for thirteen months.

He would have been sent to jail had it not been for the fact that there is a four-year-old child dependent on him who would have had to suffer had the man with the long name been sent to the reef.

E. Fritz was arrested this morning for assault and battery.

ADDITION TO THE CHEMIST'S STAFF

Food Commissioner Blanchard has been informed by letter from Washington that a chemist from the Chicago laboratory is to be appointed to a position in the Honolulu office. The name of the new man is not known at present, but it is expected that a first class chemist will be appointed.

A few months ago when Loomis, the Federal chemist, was in Honolulu, he intimated that a larger staff would be necessary here. The news that a new man is coming in June or July is as was expected when Loomis left for the mainland.

The amount of work done at the local laboratory is immense for one man to tackle, and Blanchard has been up against it for some time.

tion of a building are not furnished in the first instance and are subsequently supplied by the contractor at the request of the owner, the latter refusing to accept the building as at first tendered, the final completion of the structure, within the meaning of section 2174, R. L., as amended by Act 97 of the Laws of 1909, dates from the time the omissions are so supplied, even though in the meantime the owner takes possession of the property."

NUISANCE AT PALAMA.

In response to numerous complaints concerning the sanitary condition of a section of Palama near the Ah Leong block, the health committee of the Merchants' Association is looking into the matter, and will probably report the facts as it finds them to the next meeting of the organization. The choking up of a sewer is said to be causing the overflow of a considerable area of lowland in the neighborhood mentioned, with a resulting condition that is declared to be a serious menace to public health.

MILL FOR PHILIPPINES.

A 600-ton capacity nine-roller mill for the San Carlos central, to be erected by local capital, is now being planned. The mill will be built in Honolulu, and under the agreement with the Philippine planters must be ready for operation by 1914.

The design of the new mill will be of the latest type, and the plant will be so constructed that it may be easily enlarged to a twelve-roller mill of 1000 tons daily capacity. The first assessment of the stock of the new company has just been made, and the designing and contracting for the mill machinery will be one of the first expenses.

CHINESE WOMAN WAS OBSTREPEROUS

In the police court this morning Chin Fan, a coffee house keeper, was committed for trial on a charge of criminally assaulting three little native girls.

Wong Lung, charged with selling goods on the Sabbath, pleaded not guilty and put up a strenuous defense.

He wasted so much of the court's time that the fine of $25 and costs which was inflicted was probably about right.

Caesar Freitas, charged with assault and battery on a Chinese woman, was discharged.

It appears that Freitas owed the woman a small bill and she proceeded to collect it. After forcing her way through the door of the Freitas domicile she sought to chastise Freitas, but the latter ward off her blows. She then went to the police station and swore to a warrant for Freitas' arrest.

NEXT COME TAX APPEAL COURTS

Now that all the appeals against the assessments made by the assessors are filed, the next step is for the court of appeals to take up the matter. This must be started in June, and the governor is expected soon to name the members of the different courts of appeal. There will be five courts—one for each judicial district—and the members will probably all be business men.

Three members, one of whom will act as chairman, will constitute each appeal court. The facts in connection with each appeal will be stated to the court by the attorney general for the Territory, while the attorneys of the different corporations will give their side of the question.

There is a right of appeal from the appeal courts, and the next step would be to take the case in dispute to the supreme court for final decision.

YOUNG COUPLE

was eager and ready to make up with her, and believed he could do so were it not for her mother. He claims that when he has tried to see his wife with a view to adjusting their differences, he has been forbidden the house by the mother-in-law, Mrs. W. H. Smith. Bruns says he loves his wife and wants her back and that is why he is so vigorously opposing her suit for divorce.

The only witness examined this morning was the mother-in-law, Mrs. Smith. She recited at great length and with considerable apparent animosity the grievances of her daughter against Harry Bruns. One of her principal charges was that Harry told her and his wife, after the birth of the child, that he didn't care for young children until they were about three years old, and that his wife must not mind if he didn't seem to pay a great deal of attention to the baby. Mrs. Smith also complained that Bruns used to hurry down to breakfast early so he wouldn't have to eat it with her and the nurse.

Mrs. Smith, who is herself divorced, claimed that Bruns used to reproach her about money matters and that he finally went to her and told her that he would like to have her go away and leave him and his wife together. Whereupon, she said, she hurried to her daughter's room and asked Mrs. Bruns if she wanted her to leave, saying she would do so if the daughter preferred. The filial daughter told her to stay.

The case promises to last for two or three days. Frank Thompson is appearing as attorney for Harry Bruns and E. C. Peters represents Mrs. Bruns.

H. B. Kerr is to be the architect for the new insane asylum and he is busy on the plans now.

The damage suit of M. J. R. Silva versus Ewa Plantation Company, in which the plaintiff claims $20,000 for personal injuries alleged to have been received in a plantation train accident, was argued before the supreme court yesterday, coming upon an appeal from the order of Judge Cooper sustaining the demurrer to the complaint. Circuit Judge Robinson was on the bench in place of Chief Justice Robertson.

Judge Whitney has issued a formal order cancelling the bond of the Hawaiian Trust Company for $62,500 in the matter of the Abigail Campbell Parker estate, and approving a new bond of the National Security Company for the same amount, the company remaining trustee of the estate.

SALE OF BRASSES.

W. W. Dimond & Co., the big dealers in household goods, King street near Bethel, are to have a special sale of brasses, etc., to begin at 8 o'clock next Monday morning. These goods were purchased through the immense system of stores, of which Dimond & Co. are a part, and, consequently, were procured at the very lowest prices. They will be sold at figures below any now or heretofore obtaining in this city.

ANOTHER ROMANCE AMONG IMMIGRANTS.

When, during the long voyage of the Harpallion to Honolulu, Tomas Navarro, a young immigrant, became ill, Miss Eugenia Benito nursed him back to health. Navarro fell in love as a result and yesterday another romance among the immigrants had its culmination when Senorita Benito became Senora Navarro at the Catholic church.

Interpreter F. J. Dutra arranged the details and a bride and bridegroom, who were made such a few days ago, appeared as witnesses.

The Navarros went out to a plantation this morning.

News of the Navarro-Benito nuptials, when announced at the immigrant station, caused E. Martinez Sanchez to seek the counsel of Matchmaker Dutra, and as a result the latter escorted Sanchez and Senorita Estaquila Blanco to the church this morning and another bride and bridegroom were added to the colony. Sanchez is twenty-three years old and his wife is eighteen, and as in the case of the others, the courtship began on the Harpallion.

The monthly meeting of the Church Club will be held Friday evening at eight o'clock in the Parish House of St. Andrew's Cathedral.
